HONOKAA ITEMS.

C. B. Fisher, late of Paquilo, is now clerking for M. V. Holmes in Honokaa. Harry Rickard's horse indulged in a runaway Sunday afternoon, but was stopped before doing any damage to brake or harness.

The Pacific Mill broke down on the morning of the 3rd inst. The steamer Pele went to Kukaiau and got a duplicate piece and they were running the next

The Honokaa Mill will begin grinding in the morning. They have been delayed longer than expected on account of the non-arrival of material for improvements. All the other mills have been running for some time, and from this on each steamer will have a full cargo of sugar, and will not likely make so many trips. The Inter-Island Co. on this coast.

Wm. Hepp, one of our enterprising German citizens, has received the lum-ber with which to build a house on his homestead in Kalapa. He intends to build a larger house than the major-jority of the homesteaders can afford. The Homestead Act is one of the best things the poor man has had come in his way, and it is hoped that it has come to stav.

The Pasuhau landing is now completed, and is the safest and best one in the whole Kingdom, thanks to the mechaniical skill and enterprise of Manager Moore. The incline is of solid masonry capable of hoisting from forty to fifty tons at a load, and cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. It would be a great accommodation to the public if the Kinau would stop at this place regular. It would save many rides to Kawaihae.

The ballots for Honokaa and Waimea came on the Kinau mail, but in some way those for Kukuihaele failed to show Candidates began to get badly scared about the legality of proceeding with the election, but the Pele came up Monday morning and landed a small mail, including the missing ballots.

Quite a number of copies of R. W. Wilcox's speech came up on the Hawaii and have had free circulation, and have created much furor and comment. As a specimen of false and ignorant statements and egotistical bombast it certainly could not be beaten, is the universal opinion. It should have been printed in Hawaiian so that the natives could have read it understandingly. It would have been far better for his party (if any claims him) had such a speech never e. Put him in charge of thing and in less than one year he will have the English or American flag flying.

The caucus of this representative dis trict has been very thorough, and all vo ters have had a good opportunity to become acquainted with the issues to be decided to-day. Mr. W. H. Rickard and J. K. Kaunamano have held joint meetings in every village in the district. These meetings have been of the nature of joint debates. Ex-Judge Pakiki, who is also a candidate, has taken part in some of them, but he is not considered much of a factor in the race, and will not poll a very strong vote outside of Waimea, and will probably stand second on the list even there. W. H. Rickard closed the campaign last night with an address to the working men, at the Lyceum.

To-day came in clear and cool and the indications are that a full vote will be cast, as most of the plantations have given their white men and natives a holiday. W. H. Rickard will be elected by a good majority, having captured the Portuguese vote in the past week. Kaunamano will come in second and Z. Pakiki will bring up the rear. On the ticket for Nobles we think that all the Independent ticket will pull through with the possible exception of W. H. Purvis. Mr. P. has been reported from Hilo, over the signature of a man that can hardly afford to lie, as saying that he was opposed to the Hamakua water ditch, volcano road and most other internal improvements. He is down in Kau and Kona and will not be able to set himself right, and will consequently lose votes. J. M. that part of the ti-ket. It is thought that Mr. Albert Horner will be beaten in North Hilo, for Representative, by Mr. Mattoon, a native lawyer of recognized ability. There has been no word from Kohala for some days. Honokaa, Feb. 5, 1890.

International Marine Conference.

The International Marine Conference, which was so long in session at Washington, brought its labors to a close on the 31st of December, when it was adjourned without day. Those most interested in the proceedings of the conference appear to regard it as having accomplished results which will be found to be of value to the maritime powers. The portion of the work of the conference which took up the greater part of its time was that relating to the "rules of the road" and looking to the prevention of collisions at sea. This portion of the work consumed all but a few of the sessions of the conference. Among the most important recommendations adopted was one for the establishment of a uniform system of buoyage, a reform which is most urgently needed. Other recommendations look to uniformity in surveying laws, so as to | S. Parker require similar vessels of different countries to carry equivalent life-saving ap-pliances, uniformity in reporting, mark-ing and removing dangerous wrecks or obstructions to navigation, and uniformity in the transmission of warnings and signals of approaching storms. The establishment of a permanent maritime commission was considered, but owing to the strong opposition of the delegates from England and Germany the conference decided not to recommend it .-[Bradstreet.

THE GENERAL ELECTION.

The National Reform Party Carries This Island With One Exception.

Cecil Brown Beats J. E. Bush by Thirteen Votes in the First District -Everything Passes off Quietly.

The general election for the purpose of choosing by ballots the Nobles and Representatives of the Legislature, was held Feb. 5th throughout the Kingdom. In Honolulu the morning broke out fine and pleasant weather prevailed throughout the day. The Government building, the two banks and many of the business houses were closed for the day. The departure of the island steamers kept many persons at work, otherwise the day was pretty well observed as a general holiday. The saloons were all closed, and the election passed off in a quiet manner. There were ten polling places in all in the city, and at no one was there a very large crowd during the day. At the Reformatory school some natives were speech making for a short time during the morning. It was expected there would be a good deal of challenging, but there was not. At the Kapuaiwa building one native offered two ballots, but it was found out in time and he lost his vote. The Inspectors at this precinct, Messrs. H. Smith and Barney Ordenstein, had a fine lunch provided at noon. The polls opened at 8 A. M. and closed at 5 P. M. At the latter hour the work of counting began and before 9 o'clock all the returns were in the Interior office. It was a difficult matter to get the entire figures from the outer dis-tricts but this much is known that J. Paikuli beat J. L. Kaulukou in the Sixth district, Antone Rosa was unopposed in the Seventh and A. Kauhi is elected in the Eighth. The entire National Re-form ticket for Nobles is elected in these three districts. All the candidates on the same ticket for Representatives in Honolulu were elected with the exception of J. E. Bush who was beaten by Cecil Brown by thirteen votes. A. Marques polled the highest number of votes (442) of any Representative elected. The "little red lion" gobbled up the auctioneer in the Fourth district by a majority of 193. Achi was district by a majority of 193. Achi was badly beaten by Wilcox in the Fifth district. E. C. Macfarlane polled the highest number of votes for Noble on the elected ticket, viz., 898 and J. S. Walker the lowest, 825. On the Reform Noble ticket B. F. Dillingham was given the highest number of votes, 776, and R. J. Greene the lowest, 703.

Greene the lowest, 703. Results from the other islands will be awaited with interest. On Kauai it is probable that the entire Reform ticket may have been elected. On Hawaii, which has six Nobles and seven Representatives, it is felt certain that the Reform Noble ticket is elected, with perhaps one exception in the Kohala Noble, where an Opposition and an Independ-ent candidate may have succeeded. Of the seven Representatives elected on Hawaii, at least three will be Reformers. On Maoi, which chooses six Nobles and six Representatives, the reports from various quarters indicate that the delegation will be pretty equally divided be-tween the two parties, the Reform party electing a majority of the Nobles and but two or three of the six Representatives.

The full returns from Maui, Molokai and Lanai and also from Kauai will be received on Sunday next, and we have made special arrangements with every district on Hawaii to have the returns forwarded by special messengers from Kau and Kona to Mahukona, from which port we expect to receive the news also on Sunday or Monday.

Following is a table giving the complete returns for Nobles and Representatives in Honolulu, and those for the outer districts as far as possible:
